

WRITING PROMPT

As a student you encounter many adults who help shape your life, help you make choices, and inspire you. Think about all the teachers or other influential adults you've known from preschool to now. (Examples: coaches, camp counselors, dance instructors) Is there one teacher or other adult who really made a difference or really stands out as having made a difference to you? In a well-developed composition, describe this individual. Show the ways this person was somehow special or inspirational through examples. Give specific examples of things that the person may have done or said that made him/her stand out. Explain the ways he or she may have changed or inspired you.

WRITING PROMPT

As a student you encounter many adults who help shape your life, help you make choices, and inspire you. Think about all the teachers or other influential adults you've known from preschool to now. (Examples: coaches, camp counselors, dance instructors) Is there one teacher or other adult who really made a difference or really stands out as having made a difference to you? In a well-developed composition, describe this individual. Show the ways this person was somehow special or inspirational through examples. Give specific examples of things that the person may have done or said that made him/her stand out. Explain the ways he or she may have changed or inspired you.