

Smitten	very much in love
Hack	a coach or carriage kept for hire
Reverie	a state of dreamy meditation or fanciful musing
Taunt	an insulting gibe or sarcasm; scornful reproach or challenge.
Manacled	a shackle for the hand; handcuff
Cadaver	a dead body, especially a human body to be dissected; corpse.
Bequeathed	to dispose of (personal property, especially money) by last will
Bivouacked	a military encampment made with tents or improvised shelters
Portmanteau	a case or bag to carry clothing in while traveling, especially a leather trunk or suitcase that opens into two halves
Gallant	brave, spirited, noble-minded, or chivalrous
Lark	a merry, carefree adventure; frolic; escapade